Acknowledgements

- I want to thank Miss Mani, Miss Smita and Mr. Kent for doing all they can to make us understand all that we treat in every class.
- I also want to thank my friend, OmarSaad for being a good friend and checking out my You-Tube channel (Daniel Ayeni's Scratch Tutorials. I'll drop the link in the chat).

About Me..

- Student's Photograph

- Student's Introduction:
- My name is Daniel Ayeni. I am 13 years old and have loved coding since I was about 9 years old. My dad introduced me to coding when he made a helicopter game and since then, I was hooked. Even though I don't really have time now a days because of my exams, I still go on scratch and HTML coding once in a while. On the up coming holiday, I plan to post several scratch projects (which I would also put the link in the chat).

About My Internship with Clevered..

- I've overall had a great experience with the clevered classes, the teachers are really nice and are my class mates.
- I've earned 3 Rockstar badges for teamwork and participation in class.

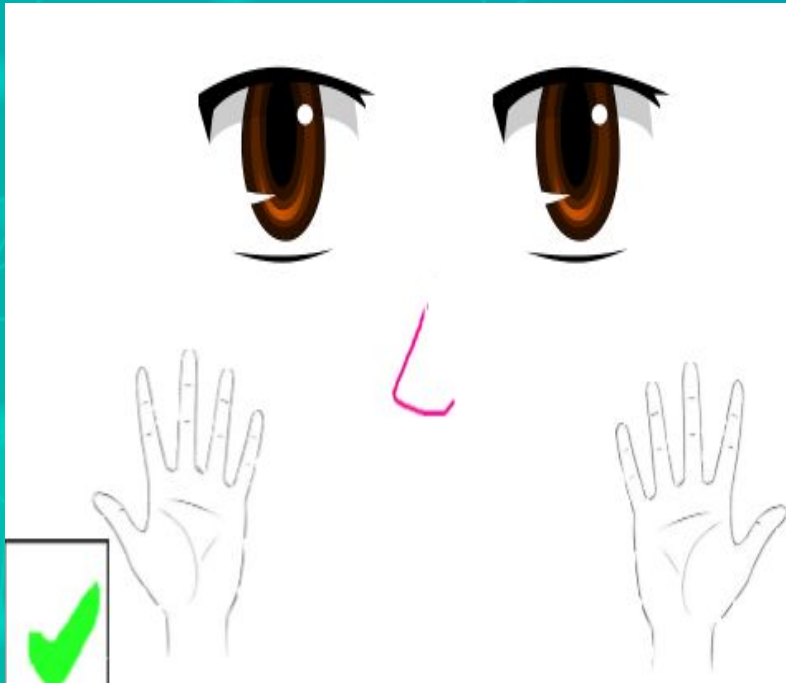

About App..

- App's Main Menu:
- Once the app starts, it shows a loading screen. Once it finishes loading, you should see your eyes and your wrists moving.
- App's Introduction:
- The Don't touch your face app is basically an app that warns you when you touch your face.

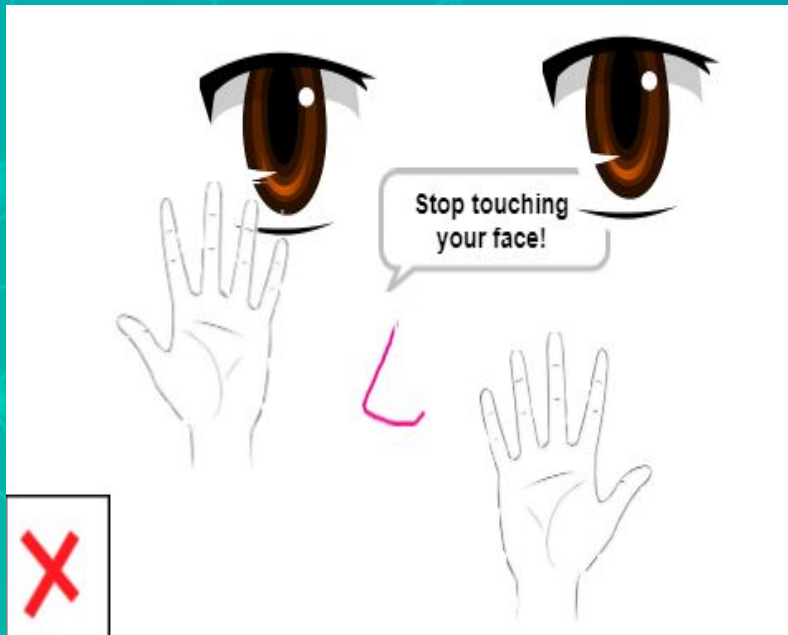

How do I use the App?

While You don't touch Your face

- This is pretty straight forward. As long as you don't touch your face, the box would display the green checkmark and everything would be fine.

While You do touch Your face

- Now, if you do touch your face, it would start to make a buzzing sound, indicating that you should stop touching your face. The computer also says out loud, “Stop touching your face”.
- Sometimes the project may lag, and you may touch your face without the app recognizing it.

Contact Person

- So, the only problem I'm facing is that the project lags a lot, and most times doesn't even open. Besides that, I'm really proud of how it came out and look forward to my next project.

Thank you!
